

EXERCISE-BASED EMERGENCY SKILLS DEVELOPMENT

2 DAYS, 6 EXERCISES!

It's an unfortunate reality, but emergencies do happen. With over 100 years of combined experience in the areas of emergency management, incident response and public and media relations, our team works with municipalities, emergency services, institutions and private companies to ensure that you are as ready as possible for an incident of any size.

This two day course will keep you moving as you travel with a team of participants from scene to scene of one mock emergency to another.

- NO Powerpoint
- NO Suits
- Hands-on, experience-based learning
- Real situations
- Come prepared for any situation or scenario
- Great for teams or individuals
- Can be tailored to fit any response team
- Can be held in your community, or you can bring your team to us

“Following our training with Loomex, our team feels more confident and sure of our roles in an emergency situation.”

- Course Participant, 2014 -

Following the successful completion of this course, you and your team will be able to:

- Have a higher comfort level when dealing with emergencies
- Understand your individual and group roles
- Participate in a Unified Command
- Work through an emergency with confidence
- Learn to work in a team environment under pressure
- Help build a strong network with your counterparts
- Work in a Command Post environment

“Loomex offers courses that are extremely valuable. The Instructors are excellent and create a very comfortable learning environment.”
